

Observing Youth Programs

As you observe youth programs, use the questions below to reaffirm your culture of safety and/or identify potential gaps and areas needing attention.

- Ask staff: How are you doing... today? This will help you understand their mental focus in the moment.
- Ask staff: How do you supervise youth when you take them to the bathroom? Are you confident of all youth's actions inside the bathroom?
- Identify a youth in the activity/room. How long does it take before a staff member comprehends the behavior of that youth?
- Identify if there are any youth that are not within sight of a staff member. This may be during arrivals or pick-up, during transitions, or at the bathroom.

Observing Youth Programs

As you observe youth programs, use the questions below to reaffirm your culture of safety and/or identify potential gaps and areas needing attention.

- Ask staff: How are you doing... today? This will help you understand their mental focus in the moment.
- Ask staff: How do you supervise youth when you take them to the bathroom? Are you confident of all youth's actions inside the bathroom?
- Identify a youth in the activity/room. How long does it take before a staff member comprehends the behavior of that youth?
- Identify if there are any youth that are not within sight of a staff member. This may be during arrivals or pick-up, during transitions, or at the bathroom.

Observing Youth Programs

As you observe youth programs, use the questions below to reaffirm your culture of safety and/or identify potential gaps and areas needing attention.

- Ask staff: How are you doing... today? This will help you understand their mental focus in the moment.
- Ask staff: How do you supervise youth when you take them to the bathroom? Are you confident of all youth's actions inside the bathroom?
- Identify a youth in the activity/room. How long does it take before a staff member comprehends the behavior of that youth?
- Identify if there are any youth that are not within sight of a staff member. This may be during arrivals or pick-up, during transitions, or at the bathroom.

Observing Youth Programs

As you observe youth programs, use the questions below to reaffirm your culture of safety and/or identify potential gaps and areas needing attention.

- Ask staff: How are you doing... today? This will help you understand their mental focus in the moment.
- Ask staff: How do you supervise youth when you take them to the bathroom? Are you confident of all youth's actions inside the bathroom?
- Identify a youth in the activity/room. How long does it take before a staff member comprehends the behavior of that youth?
- Identify if there are any youth that are not within sight of a staff member. This may be during arrivals or pick-up, during transitions, or at the bathroom.

